1) We care about patients:

Thanks to patient-centred health care, patients express their complaints, share personal and family history, receive advice and explanations, influence decisions.

2) We care about testing:

Thanks to cherry-picking tests exclusively according the case, making sure every single test obeys scientific evidence and its choice gets thoroughly justified.

3) We care about treatment:

Thanks to selecting every item individually according biological results, making sure every single prescription aims at balancing biology and metabolic markers.
